Plant Control and Automation Pty Ltd has sold "PCA Encoders" to ADM Systems Pty Ltd

We are writing to advise you that as from 1st April 2019, ADM Systems PTY LTD has acquired the trading entities of Plant Control and Automation PTY LTD: PCA Encoders, and PCA<sup>TM</sup>. As a result, PCA Encoders and all staff have joined the ADM Systems Group (which incorporates our wholesale businesses: ADM Instrument Engineering; ADM Nuclear Technologies; and our retail entities).

Both ADM and PCA have a multi-decade history of supporting Australian industrial engineering industries with exceptional technical and product support – and at ADM we have viewed PCA very much as an industry peer, with similar values and motivation.

We are confident that the integration of PCA into the ADM Systems Group will result in a synergy that benefits both PCA and ADM customers. The excellent level of service that Adrian and Jill have provided during the many years that PCA has been trading will continue, as both Adrian and Jill remain working for PCA. We are also looking to add additional support and technical staff to PCA as soon as is practicable.

As part of this change, there is a change of legal entity for PCA Encoders, with the new company details below:

ADM SYSTEMS Pty Ltd trading as PCA ENCODERS

ABN: 28 006 516 767

All outstanding invoices dated prior to 1st April 2019 will need to be paid to Plant Control and Automation's bank account. Invoices dated from the 1st April 2019 will have the new ADM bank details contained on them and should be paid accordingly.

We will for a short period be running two separate accounting systems, but will do our best to minimize the disruption to your business.

PCA and ADM have many shared customers, and so for many of you, ADM will already be vendor/supplier lists. For those who do not currently have ADM in your system, we ask you to update the details for PCA to have ADM Systems Pty Ltd as the legal entity.

If you have any questions or concerns about the integration, please do not hesitate to contact me via email (jonathan@admtech.com.au) or direct mobile (0438 456 243).

Your sincerely,
